RECAP - What is a blog?

Blogs are regularly updated websites and web pages. Usually written in an informal style, blogs contain 'blog posts' which can be used to document life events, give information about hobbies and interests or share knowledge on specific subjects.

Subheadings

Food:

If you like to let your stomach dictate your travels, you can't go wrong with a gastronomic adventure in Peru. The country is famous for its delicious local Peruvian cuisine. Plus, you can always work off those extra calories by hiking the Inca Trail.

Mix of text and images.

Beaches:

If you are a beach lover, can relax on nearly 7,500 km of coastline in Brazil. It's the perfect place to sip on a coconut and work on your tan. If you're looking for something more adventurous, you can always take a kitesurfing lesson!

Nature Lovers:

While South America as a whole has an abundance of incredible landscapes, Bolivia is home to one of the most famous natural wonders, Salar de Uyuni. You can also head to Chile to explore the hiking trails in Torres del Paine or join an expedition into the Amazon.

Wildlife:

The Galapagos Islands in Ecuador is the best destination in South America to see wildlife. A lot of the creatures are endemic to the islands, and there are plenty of cruises you can join to explore the different island

Planning your own blog...

You are going to be planning their own blogs using 2Connect.
Possible choices of topics that you might want to use.

- A blog about their time at primary school
- A blog about the transition to secondary school
- A blog about a place that they have travelled to
- A school journey blog
- A blog about a topic that you are studying
- A blog about a personal interest or talent

TASK - Create a mind-map in the App 2Connect on PurpleMash about the different things your blog could be about.

Watch this video on how to use 2Connect:
